

Weather App

Starting page of the weather app. It ask the user to allow the app to know the current location.

Based on the latitude and longitude of the current location it fetch and provides the weather report.

The local weather acts like a default weather report when the search box is empty.

When a city entered in the search box it automatically fetch the weather report and display it.

